Women's Army Corp during the war and served for three years. When she was discharged from the army at the close of the war she entered missionary training college in Toronto, the Anglican Women's Training College.

While taking the three year course at A.W.T.C. Miss Cordling went out each summer in some phase of missionary activity. The first year she served on the mission field with a Mobile Sunday School van, stationed at Athabasca. These Sunday School vans are a regular part of the Anglican mission field work. Two girls go out together in the van, one of the driver and the other as teacher. They live right in the van while they conduct summer high school classes.

During Margaret's second year she was stationed in the Anglican Mission in Drayton Valley during the summer months, and the third summer she took a Missionary Health Institute course in the M.H.I. in Toronto, in which she learned practical nursing and first-aid. Following graduation from A.W.T.C., she came to serve the Drayton Valley Anglican parish as Deaconess in 1949. She served in that capacity, acting as nurse for this district, along until the oil boom brought in an influx of new people and changed the entire picture.

While in the district in the pre-oil-boom days Miss Cordling had a well known home "Dolly" which she rode to cover the various charges in the parish outside of Drayton Valley, Violet Grove, Eastford, Pembina (the district west of Violet Grove) and Rocky Rapids. Both Margaret and Dolly were familiar sights along the roads and trails of this district as they covered the district in the work of the Lord. Dolly, too, had some claim to fame, as her picture appeared in an oil magazine in the beginning of the oil boom here.

When the oil boom came Margaret peddled to a Model A Ford car, which proved to be better fitted to travel on the kind of roads we had in this district in 1954 and 1955 than most of the newer cars.

In the fall of 1955 Miss Cordling resigned her charge to go to St. Albans the Marry Anglican Church in Toronto where she served as deaconess for almost a year, until she returned to her home at Blue Ridge for her marriage to Mr. Lief Stordalvoll. Lief and Margaret were married in May 1956. Following their marriage, Mrs. Stordalvoll came to the farm west of Violet Grove where she settled down to become a housewife. The Stordalvolls now have two little girls.

Mr. Stordalvoll was born in Norway, and received his education there, where he would be equivalent of a Canadian grade twelve. He came out with the family to Canada when he was seventeen years old. Mr. Stordalvoll Senior had homesteaded south west of Violet Grove in 1930 and the family came later. Lief joined the army at the beginning of the war and served overseas in some of the famous campaigns under "Mooney", General Montgomery. In addition to operating their farm Mr. Stordalvoll is also a battery operator in the district.

DRAYTON VALLEY FIFTH ANNUAL ICE CARNIVAL

Plans for the Fifth Annual Ice Carnival for this district are well underway. This year will see a new and very fine change in the set-up, with the Carnival being staged indoors, at the Curling Rink instead of the outdoor rink as was previously the case. Another innovation this year is the matinee, giving us two shows. First performance will be at 3:00 p.m. and the second will begin at 8:00 p.m. Date set for the Carnival is Saturday, February 6th.

This year's Ice Carnival is sponsored by the Boy Scout Committee Association. In 1956, 1957, 1958 and 1959 the Rotary Club was co-sponsor with the Boy Scout Association.

Gordon Liney, Top Canadian Professional Precision Skater, who has been here on several previous occasions will be a featured attraction again this year. Another Professional, Carol McMillan, will also be here along with about forty other entertainers from the Edmonton Amateur Figure Skating Club. As usual, there will be hilarious comic act of various kinds during the show. Marlene Robinson, a local girl, will also be a featured attraction.

Carrying the banner as candidates for the title of Carnival Queen this year are three lovely young ladies of Drayton Valley. Miss Beverly Endicott, representing the High School, is being sponsored by the Merchants of Drayton Valley. Miss Verna McDonald, is sponsored by the Pine Line, Service and Supply Companies, and Miss Pat Fry is sponsored by the Producing Companies. The method of combining various groups to sponsor a Queen candidate is a new departure also. In the past, individual companies have sponsored their own separate choice as queen candidate.

First year, in 1956, five girls entered the contest for Carnival Queen, they were, Miss Joyce Humphreys, sponsored by Flint Rig; Miss Gladys Larsen, sponsored by Mobil Oil Pegasus Club; Miss Maxine White, sponsored by Pembina Pipe Line Club; Miss Irene Beckley, sponsored by Security Engineering Company and Miss Joy Ann Patterson, sponsored by Dowell, Inc. Voted Carnival Queen that year was Joy Ann Patterson, who is now sister-in-law to the former Irene Beckley. Joy Ann had the distinction of being the first girl to be crowned Carnival Queen in Drayton Valley.

In 1957, the second year of the Ice Carnival, there were five contestants, Miss Marilyn Mitchell, sponsored by Pembina Pipe Line Club; Miss Sophie Hetta, sponsored by Mobil Oil; Miss Donna Lloyd, sponsored by Standard Oil and Gas Co. (Now Pan American Petroleum Corp.); Miss Kay Ramor, sponsored by Hiltbur Company, and Mrs. Anne Luman, sponsored by Hughes Tool Co. Miss Sophie Hetta won the crown that year.

The Third Ice Carnival, in 1958, saw four girls in the running as candidates for the Queen title. Miss Joan Vandenberg, sponsored by Drayton Valley Supply Stores, Miss Shirley O'Ball, sponsored by Mobil Oil; and Miss Sherry Scott, sponsored by Pan American Petroleum Corporation. Winner in 1958 was Miss Sherry Scott.

Last year, 1959, four girls were lined up as candidates, they were: Miss Darlene Campbell, sponsored by Mobil Oil; Miss Gayle McManis, sponsored by Drayton Valley Supply Stores; Miss Carole Parenteau, sponsored by Pan American Petroleum Corporation, and Miss Sharon Woods, sponsored by Pembina Pipe Line Ltd. Winner of the Queens' crown was Sharon Woods.

Interesting, too, are the various dates on which the Carnival has been held. The first year, 1956, it was on February 17th. In 1957, the date was February 22nd. In 1958, the Carnival was held on February 28, and last year it was staged on February 7th.

Admission tickets for the big ice show are on sale at the Hudson's Bay Store, at the Coffee Bar. The tickets for your choice as Carnival Queen may be obtained from any of the sponsoring groups. As in the past, each ticket will count for one vote, so buy lots of tickets to give your favorite contestant lots of votes for the Queens' title. All the money goes to a very worthy cause.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR CHILD

A graveside funeral service was held for little seven month old Maureen Coum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Coum, on Wednesday morning, January 20th in Drayton Valley Cemetery, by the Rev. Fr. Scriver, of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Drayton Valley. The little girl died on Monday morning January 18th. Mr. and Mrs. Coum have three other children, two girls and a boy.

ELKS HOLD BONSPIEL

The first Elks Bonspiel in the Drayton Valley Rink was held over the past week-end, January 18 and 19th, with a total of twenty-eight slinks participating. The rink was from District #13, of the B.P.O. Elks lodge, which is comprised of Drayton Valley Lodge and the lodge in nearby towns. Two rink were awarded from Hinton, five from Wildwood, four from Gairfield, five from Enrville, four from Edson and eight from Drayton Valley. A very fine time was enjoyed by all. The Entertainment Committee of the local lodge was responsible for all arrangements and reports indicate they did a very fine job, hosting the 'spiel.

Placing first in the First Event was the E. Patrick rink, from Edson; second was the W. Davies rink from Drayton Valley; third was the G. McGregor rink from Wildwood, and fourth was the Buster Travis rink, Gairfield. In the Second Event, first place was taken by the O. Field rink, of Edson, second by the Dave Gylander rink of Wildwood. First place in the Third Event was won by the J. Vitvyrka rink, of Gairfield, second by the B. Walaschuk rink of Gairfield, third by the R. Harrison rink of Drayton Valley and fourth by the M. Reap rink, of Edson.

LODGEPOLE MAN DIES IN SLEEP

Mr. Lou Brodeur, of Lodgepole, was found dead by neighbors on Wednesday morning, January 20th. Apparently Mr. Brodeur had passed away in his sleep. Mr. Brodeur came to Lodgepole early in 1956, soon after the Town was laid (cont. page 2, column 5)

Judging by what this reporter saw in the first two games, this team has a very strong contender in the intermediate "C" playoffs for provincial honours this year. A number of the players on last year's "F" entry are now around, and at least three other new faces have appeared who look as though they should bolster the "C" entry. A weak spot perhaps is goal, but that can be overcome by a lot of practice, which is what the boys are getting by playing two nights a week. One word of warning: if Drayton Valley is to have an entry in the provincial playoffs, steps will have to be taken immediately to get everything in readiness: a manager and a coach will have to be chosen; and a group of the best talent in Drayton gathered together to play as a unit long before the playoffs begin. Here's wishing the boys a lot of luck towards that goal.

It has been remarked across the nation in recent years that the game of curling is being dominated more and more by the young generation. This is evidenced by the fact that there are hardly remarkable curlers like Herb Olen and Eric Richardson. In our own little town, we too, have a young talent. I'm speaking of this town's representative in the provincial zone playoffs leading to the Brier championship. The team skipped by Jim Bell, third Mitt McEwen, second Ron Rajotte, and lead Stan Knapik won both sections to represent Drayton Valley in Whitecourt on Saturday, January 24th. Although the boys won the "B" section by two defeated games in the semi and the final, they had to curl superbly to win the "A" section. In the final game, the team skipped by one-time Brier winner Billy Ross, third Howard Carter, second Ted Willis, and lead Grant Shearer couldn't get untracked. They were down 4-0 after 4 ends. Finally Bell laid 3 in the eleventh end and won the score to 10-7 and Ross called it quits.

Our representatives will certainly give it all they've got to win Whitecourt on Saturday and I'm sure the whole town will be cheering for them. The winner for Zone 16 will be selected by a double knockout system with teams represented by towns between Stony Plain and the western boundary of the province.

SKI CLUB Meeting

On January 18th the Drayton Valley Ski Club met and discussed many areas relating to its continued growth. The aims and purpose of this club is to promote ski interest and skills as well as the recreational activities of Drayton Valley populace.

A membership list was drawn up and each person gave one dollar as a way of showing their interest in the club and its aims. Tomorrow's meeting will help in the advertising of the club, with Don Giesler acting as chairman to build the temporary tow on the hill east of the bridge. The temporary tow plans were accepted in the last meeting and we are hoping that it will be installed in the not too far future.

Our next meeting will be on Monday February 11th at 8:00 p.m.

There will be reports about the ski tow, the ski crest by our representative to the athletic Association, Roger Welsa, and we are hoping to have a qualified skier to speak on the equipment of the skier.

Dates: February 1st, Place 3016-4th St., Time 8:15 All who are interested in skiing are welcome.

Letter To the Editor:-

Sir:

I think the Postal Authorities are to be complimented on the manner in which the Christmas mail was dealt with. I am told it was the heaviest ever, and the separate depot for parcels worked most efficiently.

May I make a suggestion? Obviously the delivery of letters is almost impossible, but could not three or four posting boxes be situated in the outlying parts of the Town. It is distressing to see the harassed mother dragging her family the mile or so up to the Post Office in wintry weather or mail a letter.

Yours truly,

Not a Mother.

"COME AND REST"

By Rev. J. C. Wulff of the Drayton Valley Church of God

No one can deny the importance of rest. We learn from the book of Genesis that God Himself used it. Jesus recognized the need for it. Knowing the limits of the human mind and body He invited His disciples to "come ye apart and rest awhile". And who has not taken great comfort in His offer, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

His rest verdure becomes idleness and the love of idleness, which the excessive love of money, quickly becomes a form of idolatry, to be greatly feared and shunned by the Christian. Jesus said "go ye and do" as well as "come and rest".

Yet isn't the goal of all of us to build up our productive years to live up a "tidy nest egg" with which we may spend our declining days in comfortable ease? Christ's answer, as well as nature's, is no. The purpose of life is to serve. The purpose of learning and labor is not the privilege of staring out at the world from a blank mind and a rocking chair. Sometimes idleness, brought on by advancing age makes this necessary but it surely should not be our ambition.

Thomas, the poet, has said of the Bible, "There are, indeed, severe things in it which no man should read aloud more than once." To illustrate his point he quoted, "For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?"

That which gives basic meaning to life is still the seed of man. The soul "is not something hidden away inside of us," writes Dr. George Burdick, "to be saved by Sunday worship and labeled for heaven, while all the rest of us remains earthly."

"Nought is of higher value than the soul," wrote Homer, the philosopher. Jesus demonstrated this truth when he committed himself to the cross that man's souls might live with God.

The danger for every one is that we will bend all our human energies after wealth, honor, and success. This word "I" in the scripture quoted has a depth of meaning. It indicates an assumption that one may not gain the world.

Suppose you are one who actually gains the world. Suppose that you arrive quickly at the top of your chosen work and you are paid adequately for your work. You are able to buy that mile high limousine car and you can build that new home which is just a fraction under a mansion. You receive honor in the community. Esteem, praise, and popularity are yours for the asking. You rush from one place to another, and everywhere you go you are the main attraction. Suppose you should succeed in gaining the whole world. Then what???? Profit is not the same as income. It is the surplus earnings. Just as a person may have an income without making profits, we may gain the world and never profit by it. Indeed, we may actually lose that which we cherish the most.

We, Drayton Valley citizens, because of the millions of dollars that have been spent, think and know that we have a capacity to turn wealth out of the earth. We think that we have gained the whole world. We are undoubtedly living in one of the richest places in the world when you compare it with the poverty stricken places such as the Arab refugee camps in the east. But it can also be said as one moves to and fro that Drayton Valley is not the happy place in the world. We have the continued growth of many new homes but many homes are tearing on the brink of disaster because of the grip of liquor on their lives. There are larger bank accounts and yet there is economic unrest in many lives. We have greater security and more mental anxiety. Gain the world? We are bound to lose it!

That which gives basic meaning to life is still the seed of man. The soul "is not something hidden away inside of us," writes Dr. George Burdick, "to be saved by Sunday worship and labeled for heaven, while all the rest of us remains earthly."

"Nought is of higher value than the soul," wrote Homer, the philosopher. Jesus demonstrated this truth when he committed himself to the cross that man's souls might live with God.

The danger for every one is that we will bend all our human energies after wealth, honor, and success. This word "I" in the scripture quoted has a depth of meaning. It indicates an assumption that one may not gain the world.

Suppose you are one who actually gains the world. Suppose that you arrive quickly at the top of your chosen work and you are paid adequately for your work. You are able to buy that mile high limousine car and you can build that new home which is just a fraction under a mansion. You receive honor in the community. Esteem, praise, and popularity are yours for the asking. You rush from one place to another, and everywhere you go you are the pleasure and neglect our soul. Wealth may save us from poverty, education from ignorance, science from disease, social science from chaos, but only through the acceptance of the redemptive power of Jesus Christ can we save our soul from the wrath of God.

The heart and substance of life is Jesus Christ. The love of God for us, demonstrated in him, counters the kingdom. We want a good life and a good town, then we must seek the Kingdom of Christ, love and righteousness, and all these will be given unto us. Then and only then, is our life a profit instead of a loss.

Dear Friends:
I visited your Sunday School last Sunday and I was overjoyed to see the number of absentees. I was thrilled to see some poorly prepared Sunday School lessons and to hear that some teachers hadn't bothered to contact their last Sunday's absentees. You can't imagine the joy I felt when I saw so many walk away after Sunday School. If anything disturbs me it is to see some families staying for church. As long as I can keep some away I am assured of a chance to do my "evil" work in that home. I shudder when I see you people stay for the preaching service. If I can keep them from getting saved before they leave their seats then I have a good chance of keeping them for the rest of their life.

If I always an encouragement to see the members of the Sunday school and church who do their responsibility. This gives me just enough time to get in my Sunday punishments, which, incidentally, are always my best. I am writing you this personal letter to appeal to you to stay away again next Sunday and during the spring attendance months.

Yours truly,
Lucifer,
Commander-in-Chief.

School Boze

By: Rupert Ibbotson

Beverly Indictor is the name of the beautiful and very charming young lady whose picture adorns my humble column and she is the High School's candidate for Carnival Queen. Her hometown being Pipestone, Manitoba, Beverly, or Bev as she is known by all, is a new-comer to our fair community and a very welcome one as they all say of the boys. Baby blue eyes and a pleasant smile for all have made her a very popular girl with a high leg.

Rating for dates among the eligible makes at school, she is interested in dancing and not too certain about her interests in boys after all, when you have the pick of the crop why be fuzzy? Her opinion of Drayton is a simple, "I like it" but that's enough for all of us, she has our fullest support. Bev will be sponsored by the kind merchants of Drayton Valley and I hope that you'll all purchase a vote in her favor.

BANFF SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS

A unique recreation board workshop will be held at the Banff School of Fine Arts February 19-21 under the sponsorship of the Cultural Activities Branch (Community Recreation Bureau) of the Alberta Department of the Provincial Secretary.

If they do keep the crest, the smiling green and white emblem will soon be seen on many jackets spreading the fact that Drayton Valley's teenagers can work on their own, providing their own recreation.

Terry Stronck-McQuill is really one of the best teachers for the High School's candidates for Carnival Queen. Could it be that our good friend has fallen at last? organizing in the process of communities are eligible to attend. The workshop is designed to acquaint representatives with the duties and responsibilities of recreation boards. Delegates will also have the opportunity to discuss problems encountered in organizing a recreation program. The agenda for the three day meeting includes such topics as: board duties, finances, facility planning, development of regional recreation, provincial grants; relation of the board to staff, special groups, and to the provincial board and interpretation of recreation to civic authorities and the general public.

All delegates must be sponsored by their recreation board or, where no board is established, by the council of the town, village or municipality. A registration fee of $3.00 per person will cover the cost of accommodation and meals. Attendance forms must be completed prior to February 1. Further information is available on writing: Cultural Activities Branch (Community Recreation Bureau), Room 425, Legislative Building, Edmonton.

OIL WIVES' MEETING

Drayton Valley Oil Wives' held their January meeting at the Community Hall on Monday, January 18th. The usual supper was not served, but hostesses served pastries and coffee during the short business meeting. There were about seventy-five members present with some of their husbands as guests. After the meeting was adjourned members and guests took part in different activities that the program committee had planned for the evening's entertainment.

The next meeting will be held on February 8th with Al Gotschalk as guest speaker for the evening.

$1,000,000. gift to Canadian secondary education

Toronto, January 18 - A $1,000,000 gift to Canadian Secondary Education in the form of complete sets of Encyclopaedia Britannica for all qualified high schools has been announced by the Canadian School Trustees' Assn. Sets are being donated by Encyclopaedia Britannica of Canada Ltd. as a company's contribution to Canadian education. Pretty Mary-Lou Keeler, Senior High School student, looks through volume of Encyclopaedia, more than 1000 sets of which will be shipped soon to schools from coast to coast.

TORONTO, January 18 - More than 200 Alberta high schools will have an unprecedented million-dollar gift in Canadian education announced here today by Charles L. Simms, Fredericton, president of the Canadian Trustees' Association.

The gift is being made by Encyclopaedia Britannica of Canada Ltd.

Termining the donation of a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica to every qualified high school in Canada "the largest single contribution ever made to secondary education in this country", Mr. Simms said that over the next few weeks more than 1,800 sets of the latest edition of the authoritative Britannica would be going into the libraries of English-speaking high schools, including private schools, from coast to coast. Later, sets will be presented to those French-speaking schools which would like to have it.

Library contained all adequate reference work, which he considered an essential to modern education. "A survey disclosed a countryside lack and Britannica decided to do something about it," he said.

"First, approval was sought and obtained from the ten provincial ministers of education. Lines of the schools were acquired, checked, and codified. From the very first we realized that the Canadian School Trustees' Association was the key to the provincial ministry of education. The cooperation of Mr. Simms and his fellow officers and trustees has made the whole program possible."

Britannica officials had to find storage space for around 80 tons of books -- enough sets to fill a bookshelf a mile and a quarter long -- and arrange for shipment to over 1000 Canadian cities, towns, and villages. The sets in transit will cover a gross estimated distance of one and one-half million miles.

BURSARIES FOR ALBERTANS

Albertans working in the field of arts and crafts, drama, librarianship, music and recreation are eligible for a total of $1,700 in scholarships to be awarded this year by the Cultural Activities Branch of the Alberta Department of the Provincial Secretary. The grants are to assist persons in furthering their education or training in any of the particular fields. Five awards of $350 each will be available in the division of music. Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 25 years and should intend studying at a recognized school of music, university or with a recognized private teacher. Deadline for complete application is February 20. A total of $1,250 in scholarships ranging from $50 to $500 will be available to candidates wishing to further their professional training.

"The sheer logistics of the gift are breath-taking," Mr. Simms told a meeting of leading educators and press representatives. "Since the sets are to be replaced on a regular basis, the retail value of the donation is well over one million dollars. More than one thousand local school boards are involved in presentations to the 1600-odd schools with a total enrollment of an estimated 600,000 pupils."

Kurt R. Swinton, president of Encyclopaedia Britannica of Canada Ltd., told the meeting that he had wondered for some time if the average secondary school ing in the field of recreation. Application deadline is March 31. Two grants of $500 each and one grant of $250 will be available to applicants in the field of librarianship. To be eligible, a person must be a university graduate, or expect to graduate in May. Deadline for applications is March 31.

Residents of Alberta who are 18 years of age or older may apply for scholarships in visual arts (oil painting, water colors, pen and ink, sculpture) or handicrafts (weaving, ceramics, leather, metal). A total of $1,250 is available in visual arts, and $1,600 in the field of handicrafts. Scholarships are in the form of bursaries for tuition in any accredited school of the winner's choice. Deadline for applications is May 15.

Drama students will be eligible for a total of $2,100 in scholarships. Applicants must be working in the field of drama and must have attained the age of 18 years. Only applicants considering entering a recognized drama school or university will be considered. Applications must be completed before March 15.

Acceptance of any Government of Alberta scholarship implies an understanding that the candidate will return to Alberta on the completion of the course of studies should a suitable opportunity present itself.

Further information on 1960 scholarships is available on writing: Cultural Activities Branch, Department of the Provincial Secretary, Legislative Building, Edmonton.

Alberta's first multi-story steel structure will be 39 floors in height, in Lacombe.

Pictures of Your Baby
by Guy Gilbert

What makes a baby picture a stand-out? Lots of things that you can usually control. For instance, it will appeal to just about everybody from Nanaimo to St. John's, Newfoundland, if it tells a story about youngsters that immediately strikes a chord in all of us.

The best way to make certain you'll get such pictures is to keep a weather eye out for photographic moments - and keep your camera and flash gun loaded and handy all through the day. That's advisable because your prize snapshot may be found at breakfast, in the backyard, during Baby's afternoon nap, or at bath or bedtime.

Next, don't just set out to make a picture - aim to picture the youngster's moods. If you can catch a two-year-old with a far-away look in his eye, or a look of frustration as he's learning how to tie his shoe laces, your opportunities for producing a "better than average" snapshot will be excellent.

To pick up such facial expressions, get close to the subject, within six feet if your camera permits. For general pictures of more active older children who may be rather glazing or roughhousing, stay farther back - 10 to 15 feet.

Remember, too, that spontaneity plays an important role in delightful children's pictures. Don't attempt to make a youngster pose for you. Let him play quite naturally; give him a free rein. Put all the emphasis on the child, his expression, mood, or activity. If an adult appears in the snapshot, don't let that person detract from the child, who is the centre of interest.

Use a shutter speed fast enough to stop unexpected movement by your unpredictable little star. Your pride and joy will look more natural if she's caught in the act of reaching for her favorite doll, leaning closer to enjoy the rose's fragrance better, or smiling broadly enough to reveal that first tooth. Hold the camera steady during the exposure interval. Perhaps a tripod is in order, or the top of a convenient table can be the base of operations.

Finally, think about surroundings before shooting. Remember that the subject is the important thing - not the clutter of unrelated background objects. Plus, pictures carefully and simply.

Project to Release Liquid Hydrocarbons from Oil Sands

EDMONTON, January 15--The most comprehensive research project ever undertaken to release liquid hydrocarbons from the Athabasca oil sands of northern Alberta was announced today coincident with the formation of a four-company partnership to carry forward the enterprise.

The four companies are Imperial Oil Limited, Cities Service Athabasca, Inc., a subsidiary of Cities Service Company, which will operate the project, Richfield Oil Company of Los Angeles, and Royalite Oil Company, Ltd.

Imperial, Cities Service and Richfield will each hold a 30 per cent interest in the partnership. Royalite's interest will be 10 per cent. The Athabasca oil sands comprise the world's largest known reserves of hydrocarbons. They are located some 300 miles north of Edmonton along the banks of the Athabasca River. Areas in which these sands are at or near the surface contain in excess of 40 billion barrels of recoverable oil, about the same amount as the proved crude oil reserves of North America. In other areas, the sands, deeper under the surface and with varying depths of overburden, contain vast additional reserves.

Existence of tremendous hydrocarbon deposits along the Athabasca River has been known to petroleum scientists for many decades. Many unsuccessful efforts have been made to separate oil from the sands on a basis which would be commercially competitive with other means of producing oil. The new partnership believes the problems can be solved by new techniques.

Research activities have been carried on individually by the partners for several years, searching for a method of extraction of oil from the Athabasca sands on a commercially feasible basis. The present research program was begun two years ago by Cities Service. Subsequently, a $3,500,000 pilot plant was built at Mildred Lake, roughly 50 miles north of McMurray.

The plant includes a 3,000-barrel-per-day distillation unit, extensive separation equipment and numerous collateral facilities. A unique mining "wheel", which has proved highly successful in the surface mining of coal in Europe, strips the sand from the surface. In the Athabasca project, the sands are put through a series of processes which remove the oil and return clean white sand to the mined areas.

As operator of the project, Cities Service Athabasca, Inc., has established headquarters in Edmonton. President of this subsidiary is A. P. Frame, senior vice-president of Cities Service Company. Lee N. Hansen, for many years a leading Cities Service executive in refinery construction and operation and recently vice-president in charge of research, will be vice-president and general manager, with headquarters in Mildred Lake and Edmonton.

All those cute and energetic little girls with the C.N.I.B. buses who were around town last Saturday were members of the Drayton Valley in Company of Girl Guides. Mrs. Molly Wrenham is their Captain. The project is under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club of Drayton Valley.

THREE YOUNG CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE

Fire took the lives of three young children in Drayton Valley, on Tuesday, January 23 when the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morrill, Jr. was almost completely destroyed. The children were Irene, aged three, Dale, aged 19 months and baby Margaret, aged 3 months.

The fire alarm sounded at 12:40 p.m. and the Fire Department responded quickly. However, by the time they arrived the fire had much headway. Among the first on the scene was Lloyd Webber, a dealer for S & T Drilling Company, who saw smoke pouring from the Morrill house and ran over, and Mrs. Patterson, a next-door neighbor. Mr. Floyd Morrill, Sr. and Mrs. Isabel Morrill, the mother of the three children arrived immediately and Mr. Webber and Mr. Morrill, Sr. crawled in through the front door on their hands and knees because of the heavy concentration of smoke and flames in the house. Immediate object of their search was the large living room chair where Mrs. Morrill had left the baby when she stepped out for a moment to go to the home of her brother-in-law, two houses away, to borrow some salt. When the two men brought the chair out through the dense smoke, however, they found that the baby was not in it. Apparently the oldest girl had carried the baby from the chair into the bedroom away from the fire and had attempted to shut a dog between the two rooms.

Plywood was then hastily torn off the wall on the end of the building where the bedroom was located and Mr. Webber went through and got one of the children, believed to have been Dale, who was laying on the bed. By that time the fire department had arrived, and Carl Clauson quickly donned the mask from the fire truck and went back through the hole in the wall into the burning bedroom. Feeling around in the dense smoke and fumes he located the other two children and passed them out through the opening in the wall. The three children were immediately rushed to the Drayton Valley Hospital but it was found that they were dead on arrival at the hospital. The bodies were taken by Drayton Valley Ambulance to Foster-McGarvey Funeral Chapel. Funeral services were held for the three children from Drayton Valley United Church at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, January 25th, with the Reverend Abilene Wright officiating. Interment was in Drayton Valley Cemetery.

The above picture shows the hole in the end of the building through which the three young children of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morrill, Jr. were brought out of the burning building.

The picture to the left is a front view of the house. In the front of the house may be seen the chair which was brought from the burning building in the belief that the baby was in it.

The first meeting of the new year was held by Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce in the Royal Bank building recently with a large group of merchants on hand for a discussion of a possible day or half day of closing, and for a discussion on cutting the present two late shopping nights down to one night.

The minutes of the previous meeting held on December 2nd 1939, were read and duly adopted. Rex Burrows, chairman of the resident Christmas decorations committee gave a report on the results of the judges decision of prize winners to Drayton Valley for the Christmas decorations. First was won by the Vollen family, for second place the Gunning family and the McKeown family were tied, and the Don McKeown family won third place.

A motion was passed making the chairman of the Community Christmas tree responsible for removing the same since its days of usefulness are over. We notice that nothing has yet been done about removing the Christmas tree from its stand between the Bakery and the Triple S Variety Store. A vote of commendation was also given the Christmas Tree committee on the fine looking Christmas tree. A motion to pay several small bills was carried, as will be brought by the Chamber was also a motion that the Chamber to the Town Council for the passing of a by-law to amend the

Another motion which was carried was to the effect that the local Chamber of Commerce pay 1940 membership dues to the Provincial Association of Chambers of Commerce.

A letter was read from a Chiropractic doctor asking about the possibility of locating in the Town of Drayton Valley. Mr. J. Carson, Mr. H. Zollner and Mr. H. Pickup were appointed by motion as a committee to investigate the matter more fully. A motion was passed to form a Red Cross group in Drayton Valley. It was felt that with the Red Cross group formed here Blood Donor Clinics and Red Cross drives, etc. would get wider publicity and support. It was decided at the meeting that further copies of the "Pembina" or "The Town of Drayton Valley" copies of which were shown to the members, would be obtained.

The big question of the evening, however, remained to the last... the possibility of all retail merchants in Drayton Valley closing for a half day or a full day sometime during the week. No definite action was taken on the day or half day closing, but a motion was passed and approved that the Monday night late shopping Christmas tree. A motion to pay several small bills was carried, as will be brought by the Chamber was also a motion that the Chamber to the Town Council for the passing of a by-law to amend the

YOUNG VIOLET GROVE CHILD CRITICALLY BURNED

Children playing with matches was apparently the cause of a fire that destroyed a three-room house in Violet Grove. The house belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Erban Carrothers. Mr. Carrothers is employed with Atlantic Wire Line Ltd. in Violet Grove. Five children were in the house at the time of the fire, which occurred on Monday, January 23. The children were: Betty, aged 5, Vernon, aged 4, Brian, aged 2 1/2, Janice, aged 18 months and Baby Terry, aged 4 months. All the children were taken out of the house, without injury except Brian, who received extensive burns about the body. Young Brian was rushed to Drayton Valley Hospital; he was later removed to Royal Alexandra Hospital to be placed under the care of a specialist. It is expected that he will be hospitalized for a considerable length of time.

A near tragedy had been averted when five year old Betty had taken the baby from the basket where he had been left. When Mrs. Carrothers got into the house she found the baby's basket on fire, but the little Terry had been removed by his sister.

Badly burned Brian was brought out through the door, but the doorway was then enveloped in flames and the rest were passed out through a window. Mrs. Carrothers had been outside for a few minutes when the fire started and she heard the screams of Brian, who was sleeping on the cheerfield when the fire took place.

A bucket brigade was quickly formed by Violet Grove residents and snow was thrown on the fire. Two Mobil Oil trucks were also at the scene and the fire extinguishers from the trucks aided in putting out the flames along with water from a tank truck. Donations are being taken for the Carrothers family; any more for the Violet Grove will accept whatever anyone wishes to give.

The fire started in the kitchen, where the children were playing, and spread rapidly to the rest of the house. When Mrs. Carrothers rushed into the house she found
